

THE BOOK EXPRESS

Gale Free Library is on the road. For five years, the Gale Free Library and the Holden Senior Center have delivered library materials to Holden citizens who are housebound.

This program is perfect for those who are temporarily or permanently housebound and would like to receive library books or audio books. The service is free, but only for Holden residents.

The library staff will personally select books that are of interest to the reader and a volunteer from the Senior Center will deliver them.

To register for this program, please call Gale Free Library at 508-210-5560 ask to speak with Caitlin.
